STUDENT-LED VOLLEYBALL CLUB

DESCRIPTION: Some say volleyball is the sport of height and if you're not tall you can't do it, here we are proving them wrong with this fun after school club. This club won't be a team but will be a group of people just enjoying the sport. We will play a match of volleyball at some point once we have enough people. To get the hang of the basics we will start out with some fun games.

MEET THE INSTRUCTORS: Karen Andrews is a mother of 2 Honey Creek students and has played volleyball on a team before. She's helping her daughter Katherine's dream come true of playing volleyball by helping her run the club to teach kids how to play.

Katherine Andrews has never been on a team or been to a game but fell in love with the sport last summer. Katherine is a good player for someone who can only practice in her garage. She is an 8th grader in Cindy's base class. She's played on the field hockey team for a long time and one year on the cross-country team.

Emma Fader Emma is an 8th Grader in Cindy's base class. Like Katherine, Emma has never been on a volleyball team but wants to play the game and help kids learn it just as much. Emma started to take a liking to the sport of volleyball in gym. She always thought that it was kind of boring just hitting a ball over a net, but she found that the game is much more.
