Skateboarding

DESCRIPTION: Skateboarding is a unique athletic activity that can be described both as a sport and an art. This class will focus on the basics of skateboarding: pushing, turning, ollies (jumping and bringing the board into the air with you), and how to fall safely (very important). More advanced instruction is available to students who are beyond beginners. Skateboarding emphasizes perseverance, determination, patience, spatial awareness, balance, coordination, core strength, cooperation, and (once the student has grasped the basics) creativity. Students will subconsciously learn about Newton’s Laws of Motion. They will become comfortable facing their fears on a board, which will translate into facing other fears more comfortably. Student self-esteem is sure to soar as they advance on their board.

MEET THE INSTRUCTOR: Max Davis has 16 years of skateboarding experience and has instructed over 20 students since June 2014 when the Ann Arbor Skatepark opened. He loves working with children and getting them excited about skateboarding; and can’t think of anything he’d rather do than share his passion with younger generations.
