

The After School Programs of Honey Creek Community School present American Cursive Handwriting (A.C.H.)

"Beautiful Handwriting is the music that carries the message. It delights our eyes and makes our heart dance."

Teaching cursive handwriting is our goal, but instilling the benefits, powers, emotions and values of H.A.N.D writing in this age of electronic communication opens an avenue of creative expression for the students.

Description: I follow the "American Cursive™ Handwriting" book and curriculum by Master Penman Michael R. Sull. Students will learn from how to hold the pen / pencil to form the letters correctly, and be able to write in cursive using the A.C.H. system.

Meet the Instructor: Hong Nguyen has been using fountain pens and practicing handwriting since she was in Elementary school. She fell in love with the beautiful Spencerian Script and learned that American Cursive handwriting™ was the simplified form of Spencerian without any shading. Choosing to study and practice Spencerian under Master Penman Michael Sull and Harvest Crittenden and to teach American Cursive handwriting, it is her honor to learn more about American Handwriting's golden age. Hong has been teaching the American Cursive handwriting base of the "American Cursive handwriting™" book and curriculum by Master Pen Man Michael Sull for two years and has been commissioned to do workshops in pen shows around the country. Hong is experienced working with children and adults, and has learned that Cursive Handwriting - like music - brings tremendous benefits to children.
